

2021 SACC

Virtual Conference - Call For Papers

The Society for Anthropology in Community Colleges is calling for abstracts or proposals for presentations at its virtual National Conference (SACC Fest!) on Friday, April 23 and Saturday April 24, 2021.

We invite proposals for short individual presentations (~20 minutes) on topics of teaching and research, round-table panels (~ 1 hour), suggestions for keynote speakers and/or topics. Innovative modes of presentation will be welcomed!

Themes of infectious disease pandemics, elections and mass movements, online teaching, equity practices, and OER resources clearly present themselves as urgent and relevant topics, but the call is not limited to these.

Please submit your ideas and proposals to John Norvell, SACC President, by Monday, March 1, 2021, for full consideration: saccfest2021@gmail.com

Check our website in February for details about registration: <http://sacc.americananthro.org>. You will be given instructions for how to register through the AAA. Paid membership in the American Anthropological Association is not required.

To submit an abstract, please go to <https://forms.gle/h4JwQ9zZgCq2nqTR9>

